

Section 120 & 121 Terms List

1. Light Armored Vehicle-25 (LAV-25) - to provide strategic mobility to reach and engage the threat, tactical mobility for effective use of fire power, fire power to defeat soft and armored targets, battlefield survivability to carry out combat missions.
2. Light Armored Vehicle-Anti-Tank (LAV-AT) - to provide highly mobile, protected anti-armor fire support to light infantry and reconnaissance forces and provide capability to defeat heavy, armored targets at long ranges.
3. Light Armored Vehicle-Command and Control (LAV-C2) - is a mobile Command Station providing field Commanders with all necessary resources to control and coordinate light armored units in all assigned roles
4. Light Armored Vehicle-Logistics (LAV-L) - provides ammunition, rations and POL (petroleum, oil and lubricant) supplies required to sustain operations of first-line armored vehicles.
5. Light Armored Vehicle-Mortar (LAV-M) - to provide indirect fire support to light infantry and reconnaissance forces; providing high explosive area fire, covering smoke and illumination for first line-units.
6. Light Armored Vehicle-Recovery (LAV-R) - a tactical mobility to reach and recover/support disabled vehicles
7. Reconnaissance Battalion - to conduct ground reconnaissance and observation in support of the Marine Division and its elements.
8. Entry Level Training - This is the basic training that a Reconnaissance Marine receives at the Formal School in which the 0321 MOS is first attained (Basic Reconnaissance Course). These skills are the basic building blocks of the 0321.
9. Advanced Individual Training - This is training that occurs at follow -on schools, or through monitored on-the-job training (MOJT) at the unit. Dive and jump tasks, even though central to the ground reconnaissance core capabilities, are 2000 level events since their initial training setting occurs at schools following attendance at BRC and the awarding of the 0321 MOS
10. Collective Training - A collective event is an event that an established unit would perform in combat. This training goes from squad/team events (4000 level) all the way to Battalion events (7000 level). It is the training that allows a unit to be able to meet and perform its Mission Essential Tasks (METs), tasks listed in section 121.2.
11. Reconnaissance Team - is the Basic Reconnaissance Unit that will conduct ground and amphibious reconnaissance operations.

12. Light Armored Vehicle-Recovery (LAV-R):

13. Light Armored Vehicle-Mortar (LAV-M):

14. Light Armored Vehicle-Logistics (LAV-L)

15. Light Armored Vehicle-Command and Control (LAV-C2)

16. Light Armored Vehicle-Anti-Tank (LAV-AT)

17. Light Armored Vehicle-25 (LAV-25)

18. Light Armored Reconnaissance Battalion - is to conduct reconnaissance, security, and economy-of-force operations and, within capabilities, conduct limited offensive or delaying operations that exploit the unit's mobility and firepower.